Foreword

Clan Chisholm Society.

Introduction to WW1 Memorial volumes.

My great aunt Miss Mairi Chisholm of Chisholm was of course legendary in the family as I was growing up. A copy of 'The Cellar House at Pervyse' was to be found in our sitting room and often referred to. We were proud of her war-time reputation and of the many medals she had been awarded due to her work in WW1. She was of course also a loving aunt to my father, Chief Alastair.

Less well known was her beloved brother Uilean Hamish McUistean, my grandfather, who served during World War I in Palestine and Egypt. Uilean had resigned his position in the Trinidad Constabulary in 1915 and enlisted as a 2nd Lieutenant with the British West India Regiment. Photograph albums and other memorabilia from his time in Palestine reminded us of his war service.

World War One therefore, although distant in time, was a current topic of conversation within the family during my childhood and beyond. The scale of the 1914 - 1918 war and the huge loss of life was well known and the topic was and is covered in the educational curriculum in Britain. Both Mairi and Uilean returned to their families, so many did not.

Travelling through Belgium for the unveiling of a statue in Ypres to honour Elsie Knocker and Mairi's work and attending the nightly ceremony at the Menin Gate brought home to me even more so the sacrifice made by so many. The Chisholm clan is not a large one but there are many Chisholm names from around the world listed on the memorial showing all those still missing whose remains have not been found.

The Clan Chisholm Society which was founded in 1951 by Miss Mairi and my late father Alastair, has supported the creation of these memorial volumes to those Chisholms who fell in battle or died of their injuries later. I thank all those clansfolk who have contributed to the piece of work and especial thanks go to Robert Chisholm of New Zealand without whose dedication the memorial would not have been possible.

About this book

This memorial booklet is a product of the Clan Chisholm Genealogical Forum, a discussion group open to all who share an interest in anything and everything related to Chisholm, with a heavy bias on Clan history, family histories, and Genealogies. 2014 saw the commencement of the centenary of the Great War, and we reflected initially on the remarkable courage of one of our Clan Chisholm Society Founders, Miss Mairi Chisholm of Chisholm. Her story is well told in many places, so it won't be repeated here, but in her memory we dedicate this commemorative series, and specifically this booklet, which catalogues the Chisholm lives lost in the West Flanders section of the Western Front. In remembering Mairi, the Forum decided also to remember all those Chisholms who served and never returned. Those covered in the booklet are those whose names have been retrieved from Commonwealth and War Graves Commission Records. Regretfully we cannot cover many Clansmen who are sons of Chisholm mothers, as there is no easy way to retrieve that data. On some occasions, such a person who has "Chisholm" as part of the name, gets captured by the search engine, and these people have been included.

We have not been able to cover the great many Chisholms who served and did return, in many cases shattered in body and /or mind, but to them we acknowledge our respect. Likewise there would have been a courageous group of conscientious objectors; we can only sadly reflect that their views did not find favour with the politicians who lead the nations of Europe into a disaster of such magnitude that we are still suffering from the effects of the Great War. The defeat of the Russian Empire saw the rise of communism and the Soviet Union; the defeat of the German Empire gave rise to Nazism and a second world war; and the defeat of the Turkish Empire gave us the hodge-podge which we now have today in the Middle East.

This booklet is the first in a series of five proposed to commemorate the lives of our Chisholm clansmen who fell during the conflict. Subsequent editions will cover the Middle East, France (2 editions) and those who are buried or commemorated on home soil. The memorial booklets would not have been possible without the information being available from the Commonwealth War Graves Commission, and its US counterpart. Of great value have been the personal archives made freely available by the Australian and Canadian governments. Many photos have been taken from internet sources, and an apology is offered in advance if any copyright has been infringed.

The format is chronological, listed in order of the date of death. Varying amounts of information concerning the fallen clansmen has been found. Great effort has been made to identify the family, and to note the parents and siblings. This is so that readers might identify one of their own family members. If that is the case, and the reader can provide further information, or a photograph, please get in touch.

If the family has been found in the Clan Chisholm Genealogical Database, this has been noted on the commemorative page. Several families on the database have been extended, based on the information found during the research phase of the project. In many cases where a family is not found in the database, the Forum and the research files contain a sizeable cache of genealogical information, awaiting only an interested family member to get in touch and use the information to create a family tree for inclusion on the Database.

In the same manner, if the soldier has a known link to a family which is part of the Clan Chisholm DNA Project, that information is shared.

Where there is a link to a family known to descend from a Clan Chief, this information is shown by the use of the Chisholm heraldic device. With one exception, these families are limited to what are known as the Lietre and Knockfin branches of the Clan. While we know from the DNA project that many more families descend from a Clan Chief or a Border Baron, we do not have accurate genealogical information to positively identify the link.

The project is an ongoing electronic project. This means that further information or photographs can be added if readers recognise their own family member, and submit the information. Readers are encouraged to assist the project in this manner.

The World War 1 centenary memorial project would not be possible with the assistance of many people, too many to mention all by name but among them are:

Bob Chisholm of Sussex, Forum Founder and Database Administrator, who has provided both genealogical and military information and whose vigilance ensures that enthusiasm, does not override accuracy.

Alastair Chisholm of Hampshire, Forum master, who shares his wide knowledge of Strathglass genealogy, and who ensures the Forum is kept operational.

Anna Chisholm Dickinson, the sleuth of Spokane, who has helped track down many of the families concerned.

Ian Chisholm and Juliette Chisholm-Broomfield also provide valuable assistance, and several other individuals have provided valuable information on specific families, including Val Chisholm-Perry who provided a personal copy of the book "Catholics of Antigonish in the Great War".

Clan Chisholm contains traces of all those who have invaded Britain, or attempted to, from days of Druids and Stonehenge, the Roman Empire, The Gaelic Invasion, The Angles and Saxons, the Norman Conquest, and the Spanish Armada, and then several New World additions as well. The project has been able to confirm the historically accepted account that the Chisholm Founder was of Norman origin.

Violet Jacob (1863-1946) lost her only son Harry on the Western Front.

The theme of this short poem expressing her grief is something shared by so many of the Chisholm mothers and fathers whose sons never came back.

Rosshire Journal 1 Feb 1918 carried an article on 4 cousins, all named Roderick Chisholm, all grandsons of the late Roderick Chisholm of Clunes.

FOUR RODERICKS CHISHOLM

There is reproduced to-day photographs of four cousins all bearing the same Christian name of Roderick and the same surname of Chisholm, all of whom are grandsons of the late Roderick Chisholm, Clunes, Inverness-shire. All four have made the supreme sacrifice, no hope being left, it is believed, of the man reported missing. Each of the four cousins was the eldest son of his father, the particulars of the four cousins are as follows:

(1) Pte. Roderick Chisholm. King's Liverpool Regiment (died of wounds), son of Geo. Chisholm, R.D.C., 65 Shamrock Street, Garnethill, Glasgow, whose wife is a daughter of the late Mr Alex. Vass, Balintore, Ross-shire. Prior to joining the Colours, he was employed by Manfield & Sons, Buchanan St., Glasgow.

(2) Lce.-Corpl. Roderick Chisholm, Cameron Highlanders (missing since Nov., 1914), son of the late John Chisholm, Grogarry, South Uist, was a Regular.

(3) Sergt. Roderick Chisholm, Cameron Highlanders (died of wounds), son of Evan Chisholm, Garscube Road, Glasgow. Prior to joining the Colours he was employed in a bond store, Robertson Street, Anderson, Glasgow. His mother, who was a Miss Junor, hailed from Dingwall.

(4) Lce.-Corpl. Roderick Chisholm, Royal Scots (killed), son of Roderick Chisholm (officer), H.M. Prison, Peterhead, was a Regular.

25 SEPTEMBER
1915

Born in India, 1894. Eldest son of Mr Edward Consett Chisholm and Arabella Cary-Elwes

Lt. Alistair Edward Chisholm is remembered on the Menin Gate and at the war memorial in Peterborough, and on the Peace Memorial at St Mary Magdalene Church, Bexhill on Sea.

Brother of Air Commodore Roderick Aeneas Chisholm DFC, night fighter Ace in WWII.

“Second-Lieut. Alastair Chisholm, Royal Scots, attached to 1st Royal Scots Fusiliers as bombing officer, was killed in action on Sept. 25th at Hooge, in the last engagement in the 2nd battle of Ypres. (The second attack on Bellewarde).”

Standing alone on the parapet of the third German line of trenches, he kept the enemy at bay two and a half hours, throwing bomb after bomb as they were handed to him by his men, until a German bomb burst at his feet, killing him almost instantaneously.

He was twenty-one, educated at Downside and Ushaw, and returned from the Argentine at the outbreak of war to join the Army.”

Occupation Miner Putter.

Father William Chisholm aged 41 b. Shildon.

Mother Jane Chisholm aged 42 b Trimdon

In a quiet part of Southwick, away from the hustle and bustle of daily life, lies a memorial stone commemorating the sacrifice made by some of the men who enlisted in the armed forces in the First World War.

The memorial names some 174 men from Wearmouth Colliery and, as can be read from the inscriptions, they gave exemplary service and some were highly decorated for their valiant efforts.

The inscription on the memorial stone reads:

PRO PATRIA

ERECTED IN MEMORY OF THE MINERS OF WEARMOUTH COLLIERY WHO GAVE THEIR LIVES FOR THEIR COUNTRY IN THE GREAT WAR, 1914 - 1918

The stone is located at the Wearmouth Colliery Welfare Cricket Ground, Thompson Road, Southwick, Sunderland.

John had many siblings: brothers Robert, Harry, Oliver, and sisters Mary, Marriot, Kate and Florrie

He also had Uncles John O, Thomas, and Robert E, a large family closely associated with the coal mines of County Durham.

13021 Private R Chisholm

9th Battalion Northumberland Fusiliers

26 FEBRUARY
1916

Private Robert Chisholm resided in Newcastle.

He died on 26th February 1916 at the front, the southern edge of the Ypres Salient. The trenches of the 9th battalion were bombarded with enemy grenades, and the Northumbrians suffered 28 casualties, which included Private Robert, and he died from the wounds received in this attack, and is buried nearby at the Bedford House Cemetery. It has been difficult to trace the family of Robert as there is nothing in the surviving army records. The register of effects gives no indication of a next of kin, there is no request made to have an inscription on his headstone, and his 3 war medals, including the 1915 star, were returned. This leads to the conclusion that he may have been without a family, and the 1901 census records do show a young boy of 10 as an inmate in the workhouse at Elswick.

At Newburn Hall in 1911, a few miles upstream on Tyne, there is a single boarder named Robert Chisholm, working as a Miner Putter. St Michaels Church in Newburn records R Chisholm on their roll of honour. Robert Chisholm of Newburn (1911) was born in Kirk Yetholm, and there is a birth for a child named Robert Elliot Chisholm in 1890 in Yetholm, an illegitimate son to Elizabeth Chisholm, and thereafter this Robert is not to be found in Scotland. It is most likely that R Chisholm who is memorialised on the plaque at St Michaels Newburn, is the Robert Chisholm who appears in the Newburn Census of 1911, and gives his place of birth as Yetholm, and that would be Robert Elliot Chisholm, son of Elizabeth Chisholm. Unwanted, unclaimed, his family were the workhouse inmates, the miners of Newburn, his Geordie comrades of the 9th Northumberland Fusiliers.

Private John Walter Chisholm was born in Toronto, October 28, 1896. Son of Rev John Chisholm and Elizabeth McKinnon, 320 MacKay Street Montreal.

Joined Montreal, Beaver Hall Branch (Royal Bank of Canada) June 30, 1913. Enlisted in Montreal, in the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, June 16, 1915. Shot and wounded in the head at Sanctuary Wood on June 2, 1916, captured and died of wounds as a POW in Wurt. Feldlager II, Menen on June 6, aged 19 years.

Rev John Chisholm, Presbyterian Minister, was born in New Glasgow, Nova Scotia in 1852. Both his parents, Hugh and Catherine Munroe, were born in Scotland.

It is possible that Hugh's parents are Alexander Chisholm and Mary Robertson, and amongst his brothers are the Rev Donald Chisholm of Boleskine. This family is said to be associated with the Teawig family.

Private John Chisholm has siblings Hugh Alexander, Florence, Zelda, & Donald Munroe.

2507 Private James Seaton Chisholm

5 Battalion Border Regiment

27 JULY
1916

Enlisted at Whitehaven, Cumberland

Killed in Action on 27 July 1916 aged 21

James was born in Whitehaven in 1895, son of Samuel Seaton Chisholm and Annie. He was a coalminer at the time of enlistment in September 1914. He was killed on 27 July, he was going into the dug out to fetch his hard hat when a shell hit and killed him and two of his 5th battalion comrades.

James' father Samuel was born in Auchencairn, Reerick Parish, Kirkcudbright, in 1865. His mother was Helen Chisholm, father not named. A strong suspicion would be that the father's name was Seaton, as young Samuel was given this name, and it continued with his oldest son, Private James Seaton Chisholm. The extended family had moved to Whitehaven by 1871. James had siblings Richard, Samuel and Ellen/Helen, and several Chisholm cousins.

He is remembered on the St. James Whitehaven War Memorial.

As a part of the continuing Third Battle of Ypres on the Western Front, Australian, New Zealand and British troops were involved in an unsuccessful attempt to seize the Passchendaele Ridge from the defending Germans on 12 October 1917. The vicious fighting took place in the most appalling of waterlogged conditions, which helped render the name Passchendaele a synonym for slaughter. The 3rd Australian Division's attempts to struggle forward to their objective with little artillery protection represented the last major Australian participation in the Third Battle of Ypres.

2100909 Gunner Ludwig van Bethvon Chisholm

2nd Brigade 10th Siege Battery, Canadian Garrison Artillery

13 FEBRUARY
1919

Gunner Ludwig Chisholm, aged 28, was born in Halifax, Nova Scotia on 22 June 1891.

Son of Jessie Chapman (formerly Chisholm) of Westville NS, and the late Arthur Chisholm.

Nephew of Julia, Arthur's little sister.

While this was not in Flanders, for administrative purposes, matching the CWGC data, 2 other Chisholm casualties within Belgium have been included in the Flanders memorial.

Commemorated on Page 531 of the First World War Book of Remembrance.

Ludwig's father, gifted, blind, music teacher Arthur was from Londonderry, Colchester, as was grandfather John W Chisholm, farmer. The official army record shows the middle name as Bethvon. Arthur studied in music in Germany 5 years before Ludwig was born, and so there is every reason to suspect that the Army record may not be accurate, and that his correct name would be Ludwig van Beethoven Chisholm. Ludwig contracted Pneumonia in February 1919, 3 months after peace broke out, and became dangerously ill, and died on the 13th of Feb.

Burial: Charleroi Communal Cemetery

Hainaut, Belgium Plot: D6

HE whom this scroll commemorates was numbered among those who, at the call of King and Country, left all that was dear to them, endured hardness, faced danger, and finally passed out of the sight of men by the path of duty and self-sacrifice, giving up their own lives that others might live in freedom. Let those who come after see to it that his name be not forgotten.
